

Day 37: Wednesday, December 11
and Thursday, December 12

Create a story where the main character is a student at AMES. The main character needs to have a tragic flaw. A tragic flaw is a flaw in the character that brings the him/her to ruin or sorrow. Don't simply tell the character's tragic flaw. Instead "show" through your story the tragic flaw. Your character shouldn't start off as a villain, but they can end as one.
